INJUNCTIONS TRIED ONLY ONE MORE DAY

Judge Fields Enjoins the Louisville Boxing Contest.

The Smallpox Injunction Comes up at Louisville Today—Safe Blowing at Cernleau.

ACCIDENT ON THE B. AND O.

TO DISSOLVE INJUNCTION.
Frankfort, Sept. 19.—A motion to dissolve the injunction granted by Judge Fields to prevent the McGovern-Corbett contest was made this morning before Judge Guffy, of the court of appeals. He said that unless the other side objected he would transfer the case to Judge White. It was then agreed that the whole court hear the argument, two hours a side, with an hour for lunch.

TO HEAR INJUNCTION.
Bowling Green, Sept. 19.—Dr. J. N. McCormick, secretary of the state board of health, and others left for Louisville today where the injunction to prevent the taking of the Porters to the pest house will come up at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

ANOTHER SAFE CRACKED.
Hopkinsville, Sept. 19.—The dry goods store of Rawls and Walker, in which was located the postoffice at Cernleau, was entered about 12:30 o'clock last night and the safe was blown open. The proprietors have sent for bloodhounds and will allow no one to enter so as not to destroy the scent.

SEVERAL HURT IN A WRECK.
Chillicothe, O., Sept. 19.—The east bound express No. 2, on the Baltimore and Ohio, with eight cars, was wrecked last night by running into an open switch at Leesburg, three miles from here, killing two persons, injuring two badly and slightly injuring forty.

THE CAIRO ROAD

It Will be in Operation by the First of the Year.

O'Hara Station Will Probably be Changed to Katterjohn.

Chief Engineer W. J. Harahan of the Illinois Central, who was in the city today, stated that the extension from Paducah to Cairo now under way will be completed by the first of the year and in operation. An application for running the first extension has already been received by the road, but nothing has yet been done with it.

It is understood that the Illinois Central desires to change the name of the little station near Princeton, the headquarters of the Katterjohn Construction Co., and the postoffice name, which is O'Hara, to "Katterjohn," in honor of Mr. Katterjohn, and the request was to have been made of him today, but he was not in the city.

PAY CAR COMES TODAY.

The I. C. pay car will arrive this afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock from the St. Louis division of the I. C., and will pay off this afternoon. Tonight the merchants will keep open to convenience the railroad trade and a good business is expected.

Mr. George B. Hart and bride have returned from their bridal tour.

A GREAT PRODUCTION.

Elmer Walters' latest sensation, "A Millionaire Tramp," contains seven of the strongest comedy characters that have ever been collected in one play. Each one differs vastly from the other, and lends opportunity for variety and action. The ghost scene in the first and the darkest porter's scene in the third act are two of the funniest imaginable. The dramatic scenes are fully abreast of the comedy, and the scenic mounting superb. The Church of the Holy Cross in the second act is one of the handsomest settings of this kind that has ever been attempted. The opera house in the third is a decided novelty, something entirely new and out of the ordinary; while the old hotel in the last act is the very embodiment of quaintness and originality. Grand matinee at The Kentucky tomorrow. Seats now on sale.

DIED IN TEXAS.

Mr. E. S. Oary, once a resident of Paducah and a time keeper at the railroad shops, died a day or two ago in Bolton, Tex. He went from here to Cairo, after marrying Miss Molly Clayland, and from there back to Louisville where he resided until about a year ago. The remains were buried in Texas.

A Reception Tendered the General Public—Music and Refreshments Features.

ASSOCIATION GETS TO WORK

Tonight the formal reception and social will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building at Sixth and Broadway to celebrate the opening of the association under the new management.

The ladies' committee did not meet last night, but held a meeting this morning and completed the arrangements for the reception. Secretary Hanna wishes to state that all persons of both sexes, whether members of the association or not, are invited and urged to attend. The public seems to have gotten the wrong idea as to the reception and who are invited and thinks that only the members are invited. This is erroneous and all are invited who are over the age of 16. The new management has placed the association in better condition in every way than it has been since first started and wants the public to see what has been done and to also see the advantages the association holds out and thereby create a better interest in the work and promote the popularity of the association.

As previously stated, the association board of directors will act as a reception committee and urge everyone to come. Instead of watermelons the committee has decided to serve lemonade and wafers, as watermelons are out of season and good ones cannot be procured. There will be an excellent musical program and all who attend will undoubtedly be well pleased with the entertainment part of the social.

The plumbing will be finished today and hot water will be ready tonight in the baths. The gymnasium suits are here and Physical Director Matthis will open the classes Monday.

After tonight, the formal opening, the association will settle down to business proper and it is assured that the new management will make it successful, more so than it has been, and the new interest created in the work already and the large number of new members assures the success of the association. The educational work will be made a feature, but the gymnasium department will perhaps be the most interesting department and best patronized of all departments, since a physical director has been secured who thoroughly understands his work and will teach physical culture as it is taught in all colleges and universities throughout the country.

DEVoured BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

Mr. Charles Roark, the well known painter, left this morning for Hot Springs, Ark. to locate. He resided there several years and only recently returned to Paducah.

Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetter and Acne

Belong to that class of inflammatory and disfiguring skin eruptions that cause more genuine bodily discomfort and worry than all other known diseases. The impurities or sediments which collect in the system because of poor digestion, inactive kidneys and other organs of elimination are taken up by the blood, saturating the system with acid poisons and fluids that ooze out through the glands and pores of the skin, producing an indescribable itching and burning, and the yellow, watery discharge forms into crusts and sores or little brown and white scales that drop off, leaving the skin tender and raw. The effect of the poison may cause the skin to crack and bleed, or give it a scaly, fishy appearance; again the eruptions may consist of innumerable blackheads and pimples or hard, red bumps upon the face. Purification of the blood is the only remedy for these vicious skin diseases. Washes and powders can only hide for a time the glaring blemishes. S. S. S. eradicates all poisonous accumulations, antiodotes the Uric and other acids, and restores the blood to its wonted purity, and stimulates and revitalizes the sluggish organs, and the impurities pass off through the natural channels and the skin is clear and healthy.

SSS relieve the skin. S. S. S. is the only guaranteed purely vegetable blood purifier. It contains no Arsenic, Potash or other harmful mineral.

Write us about your case and our physicians will advise without charge. We have a handsomely illustrated book on skin diseases, which will be sent free to all who wish it. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

GEORGE W. RILEY.

Mr. George W. Riley, who died Wednesday at Crofton, Christian county, was one of the best known men in Southwest Kentucky, and had a host of friends in Paducah and elsewhere who regretted very much to learn of his unexpected death. His remains were brought to the city yesterday and taken to Oak Level, where they were buried.

RAISED FROM THE DEAD

I tried to get some more, but before I had 'deposed' of my bottle, I was cured entirely. I am telling the truth too." 25c, 50c and $1 at DeBois, Kolb and Co.

GOES WITH THE FRISCO.

Mr. Hardy Bryant, who has been connected with the freight department of the Illinois Central, left today for Springfield, Mo., to accept a position with the Frisco road. Mr. Bryant is a young man of great promise in the railroad business and will doubtless please his new employers as he has the Illinois Central for several years past.

CROUP.

Usually begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup—the child will cry for it—and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 50c at DeBois, Kolb and Co.

POISON THROUGH MISTAKE.

Mrs. Ben Carper of Oak Level, Marshall county, gave her child what she thought was calomel Wednesday, according to reports which reached the city last night, and the child died shortly afterwards, the medicine proving to be morphine. The mother sent for a doctor as soon as she noticed the child's condition, but it was too late.

A Medicine for Old People.

Rev. Geo. Gay, Greenwich, Kas., is past 83 years of age, yet he says: "I am enjoying excellent health for a man of my age, due entirely to the rejuvenating influences of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It brings sleep and rest when nothing else will, and gives strength and vitality even to one of my old age."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Saved me from the insane asylum," Mrs. A. M. Heifner, of Jerico Springs, Mo., writes. "I was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself, could not sleep nor rest, would even forget the names of my own children at times. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine and it helped me from the first, and now I am perfectly well."

THE WEATHER.

Fair and cooler tonight. Saturday fair.

The people of Paducah have the press to thank for the withdrawal of the injunction suit. It has made things so warm for the city lawmakers and the instigators of the suit that they were forced to withdraw it, not at the point of a pistol, but by the force of public opinion. If the press hadn't agitated the subject as it did perhaps many people would not today know that there had been such a suit. Or if the press had for any reason advocated the prosecution of the suit the people would probably have paid little attention to the matter, and advocated it also. The whole scheme was exposed, however, and the result proves conclusively the power of the press. The next time city officials ask for a legal opinion on "elections" they ought to wait until the boards have been apprised of their intentions, have discussed the advisability, and if decided expedient, then, and not until then, send for the opinion. When it comes, if it suggests any proceeding of public importance, submit it to the boards and let them decide what to do with it, and then do it. It is not good policy, however, to send for an opinion without authority, keep its contents a secret and, then a few officials meet and decide to bring a suit and bring it without authority from anyone. No matter what the intention of those involved may be, such star chamber business lends it an ominous phase and arouses the suspicions of the people. It is better to be open and above board. There is now no more reason for anyone's testing the question of whether or not Paducah is in the second class than there would be for a man to imagine his neighbor didn't have a "clear" title to his house across the street and bring a suit in the court simply to find out and satisfy his curiosity.

It must be hard for rich men to try to do right. If they keep their money and grow richer every day they are roundly condemned as misers. If they build fine houses, buy elegant yachts, spend their money traveling aimlessly about, or in other ways turn it loose, a howl goes up from the yellow journals about their wanton extravagance, and how they boldly squander the money ruthlessly wrung from the pocket of the poor working man. If they gamble it away or throw it away on horse racing the pulpit takes a crack at them for their wickedness, and if they philanthropically scatter it broadcast, like Mr. Carnegie, they are accused of being insincere seekers after cheap notoriety, who give away their money to get talked about, and not for the pleasure it gives them or the good it does others.
Here only the other day Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan was accused in the dispatches of the atrocious crime of giving a newsboy 50 cents for a paper and refusing to take any change, provoking from even the wise and witty Courier-Journal an observation that "Mr. Morgan not only has the wealth of a Croesus, but the wisdom of a serpent. He has made that newsboy his friend." And it proceeds in a cool and logical manner to prove that Mr. Morgan refused the change simply to "bribe the newsboy." This is what big men get for trying to be charitable!
Their motives are impugned. They try to do a little good as they go along and are immediately accused of insincerity, avarice, corruption, viciousness and extravagance. But will the Courier-Journal please explain what use Mr. Morgan will put the newsboy to now that he has "bought him?"

There is no reason Republicans should become dissatisfied or alarmed because of Speaker Henderson's withdrawal from the race for congress, and it is not seriously believed that they will be. Speaker Henderson simply withdrew because he was convinced that his views did not conform to those of the Republicans he would have to represent should he be elected in his district. They believe one way and he believes another, and he could not faithfully represent them under the circumstances any better than a Democrat could, and was frank and honest enough to say so. It should be understood, however, that the element that does not agree with Speaker Henderson is very small compared to the rank and file of the Republican party, and does not represent any disaffection in the party. Few Republicans believe as those in Iowa believe, and the sentiment that they represent, that of revising the tariff to destroy the so-called trusts, is insignificant and impotent except possibly in that particular part of the country. Sani-table Republicans understand this, and are not afraid of any dissension arising anywhere else. Speaker Henderson has withdrawn because he didn't think the tariff has anything to do with the trusts. Let some man who does believe it represent those people in congress and see what a small peta to he will be.

The Republicans in the First congressional district are going to make a good showing this fall. Hon. C. H.
Linn of Lyon county is an able man and is making friends everywhere.
This district is not as hopelessly Democratic as the Democrats may think, and they are likely to be surprised some of these days. Judge Darby, for the court of appeals, is also a man who has the respect of all who know him, and is going to run a good race.
The Republicans, Democrats and all others who want able, honest and energetic men in congress and the court of appeals should rally to the support of the Republican nominees.

Alderman Noble comments on the failure of Mayor Yeiser's friends to stand by or defend him in the late controversy, and then turns around and resigns. Why are Mayor Yeiser's friends deserting him at this time, when he needs them most?

Mayor Yeiser is beginning to look like the little boy the calf ran over.
And his own appointees are rubbing it in on him by running away when he needs them most!

It seems that the administration's friends are deserting it in its time of need.

Mayor Yeiser probably thinks a friend in need is a friend indeed.

There is now barely a quorum in the board of aldermen.

Is it a case of rats deserting the sinking ship?

WRIGHT, YET WRONG.

A PLAY THAT WILL DRAW A LARGE HOUSE.

Manager J. J. Coleman of the American theater, New York, has placed an exceptionally good company on the road this season to support "that old fellow" Henry Beresford in George H. Broadhurst's merry farce,
"The Wrong Mr. Wright," which all who have ever witnessed it content to be the best of all farce comedies ever written. Its reception throughout the country last season was most flattering and the press, we are told, were unanimous in pronouncing Mr.
Beresford as the coming comedian of this era. "The Wrong Mr. Wright" abounds in skillfully organized confusion, ludicrous complications and uproariously funny misunderstandings and has been described as "one continuous laugh" from start to finish.
The principal burden of the fun making, of course, falls upon the shoulders of Mr. Beresford, and that he is fully equal to the task we cannot doubt, judging from the comments that have come to us from elsewhere.
This young man will have the support of a company of efficient players each of whom have been selected for their personal adaptability to portray the exacting characters that they are expected to delineate. The costuming and other accessories will be on a par with the magnitude of this production. Seats on sale tomorrow for the grand opening at The Kentucky Monday night.

C. H. Hagerty, District Passenger Agent, Louisville, Ky., or J. M. Harris, A. G. P. Agt., Northwest corner Fourth and Walnut Sts., Cincinnati, for particulars.

A Tribute.

"The best of us," said the man of generous inclinations, "are occasionally betrayed into a deviation from the strict paths of truth."

"George Washington never told a lie," was the rejoinder.

"That is only hearsay. There is nothing on record to show that Washington personally ever made the claim. He was too truthful a man to venture any such assertion."

Didn't Look in Right Place.

A Japanese girl says in one of the eastern magazines: "I have no doubt that Chicago has no poet." If this young woman will stand at the entrance to some Chicago newspaper office she may count three and sixty several Chicago poets going in and passing out every hour.—Chicago Record-Herald.

DR. ROBT. RIVERS

Popular Young Doctor Made City
Physician Today.

Will Hold Temporarily—Mayor Yeiser
Has Not Decided on Aldermen.

Dr. Robert Rivers has been appointed by Mayor Yeiser as city physician temporarily, until the council can elect another. This power is giving the mayor but he can appoint temporarily only. No other applicants have made themselves known but it is said that there will be several physicians after the office. A member of the council said this morning that he did not think the council would accept the resignation of City Physician Coyle when presented before that board, but Dr. Coyle refuses to serve and the council can do nothing more than accept the resignation when regularly placed before it.

Mayor Yeiser was today asked about the appointment of successors to Aldermen Harry and Noble and judicially stated that he had no one in view but was thinking seriously of putting the "newspaper men" in the places as he thought they might run things and make good members of the board. Further than this he had no statement to make regarding the appointments.

MR. HICKS DEAD

Veteran Flagman a Victim of General Debility.

Remains to be Shipped to Louisville
—Mr. Jas. Doyle's Funeral.

Mr. William Hicks, better known as "Daddy" Hicks, died today at the home of his daughter at Epperson, this county, from general debility, after a long illness. He was a Kentuckian by birth, and was 80 years old, having spent most of his life in the railroad service. His last position was that of flagman at the crossing at Sixth street near the old union depot, where for years he was a familiar figure. He was one of the few employees here whose services entitled them to be retired on a pension by the Illinois Central when the pension system was established.

The deceased leaves a wife and five children, his son being Mr. John Hicks, depot master at the Seventh street station, Louisville.

The body was brought to the city today and taken to Nance and Spaulding's and will tonight be shipped to Louisville for burial.

The funeral of Mr. Jas. Doyle, whose death is mentioned elsewhere, will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the residence, 817 Tennessee street. The deceased leaves one son, Mr. John W. Doyle, and two daughters, Misses Lola and Flossie Doyle.

Mr. Doyle, who was left an orphan at the age of 5 months, grew up in Southwest Kentucky and was a Confederate soldier, enlisting in Mayfield under Captain Albritton, Third Kentucky. After the war he was in Texas as a cowboy for awhile.

To Retain Youth and Beauty.

Ellen Terry has a very simple recipe for the retention of youth and beauty. You must work till tired, sleep till rested, have plenty of fresh air, live in cool rooms, take a daily sponge bath and eat the simplest food.

A NEW TIME CARD

Changes in the Illinois Central Passenger Schedule.

Talk of Seven Hours Between Louisville and Memphis Foolish—O. C. Business Increasing.

ENGINEER HARRAHAN IS HERE

There will be a new time card issued probably by the expiration of the present month for the I. C. and it is reported that several changes in stops will be made on the fast day trains between Memphis and Louisville.

It is said that three small stations on the division between here and Louisville will be cut out, which means a saving of about twenty-five minutes or probably thirty to the train. The time card will be the regular card issued at the beginning of the winter months. The company gets out cards twice every year, one in the spring and one in the fall.

Owing to phenomenal traffic the Illinois Central railroad is badly in need of equipment for freight.
Unable to get cars, the management has taken a novel method of increasing its freight equipment. Orders have been issued to assemble every discarded box car on the entire system and hatch them up for emergency business. Hundreds of such cars are fitted up as houses and dot the tracks from Chicago to New Orleans and from Omaha to Chicago.

Before depriving the working gangs of house and home the management distributed tents to replace the box cars, and the tents will be used until new homes can be rigged up.

All discarded flat cars on the entire system have been assembled at the various shops and are being reconstructed into houses. The substitution is costing the company considerable money, but it will add materially to the carrying capacity.

It is understood that W. L. Gordon and C. E. Merton of Madisonville, the promoters of the proposed railroad from Madisonville to Dawson Springs, are greatly encouraged over the prospects for the road, and expect work on the road to begin soon, says the Courier-Journal. The company was organized in New York last spring and is backed by New York and Western Kentucky capitalists. The line will be twenty miles long. The survey was completed several months ago, but some hitch as to other rights of the company has prevented the promoters from beginning the actual work of construction.

The plan is to operate the line independently of any other railroad, and those interested in the project believe that the mineral and timber lands which will be opened up, together with a heavy passenger traffic, will be of sufficient value to make the property pay from the start.

Mr. W. J. Harahan, chief engineer of the I. C., of Chicago, arrived in the city this morning in his special coach from the south and left several hours later for Louisville. He is on his regular inspection tour and will return through the city again in a few days.

A well known official of the I. C. stated in regard to the fast train report, the report that there would be a fast train between Louisville and New Orleans, making the run between Louisville and Memphis in seven and one-half hours, was probably not correct, as he considered this time impossible to make. He stated that there had been some talk of putting in such a train, but thought it would not be done for some time yet. It has been known for some time that the officials were talking of putting on a fast train, but the first proposition, published in The Sun several months ago, was to run the fast mail train between New York and New Orleans via Louisville, Paducah and Memphis, and a local engineer who made a visit to Chicago saw the woodworkers in the Chicago shops turning out fourteen new mail cars to be used on these runs, according to the reports circulated at that time.

AN IMPORTANT AGENCY.

OF MUCH BENEFIT TO PADU-CAH—ESTABLISHED IN THIS CITY.

On account of Paducah's rapidly increasing importance as a business center and distributing point for adjacent territory, the great Globe-Wernecke Co., of Cincinnati, O., have found it necessary to establish an agency in this city for the sale of their famous Elastic Hook cases, office filing devices, office supplies and desks. This agency they have established with the old and reliable Paducah Furniture Mfg. Co.

The frequent orders to Globe-Wernecke Co. from this city for their indispensable goods have made an agency indispensable at this point.

The agency is of much importance to Paducah as from it supplies that have heretofore had to be ordered and waited for will now be kept in stock and can be supplied at a moment's notice. The Paducah concern is to be congratulated upon having so desirable a line added to their already overflowing stock of furniture.

It may be of interest to mention the fact that Mr. Henry Yeiser, brother of our honorable mayor, is president of the Globe-Wernecke Co., the greatest concern of its kind in the world.

The Paducah Furniture Mfg. Co. have on display this fall line and customers will do well to look it over

IMPORTANT DECISION

THAT LAEVISON'S PALE ALE AND IRON TONE ARE NON-INTOXICAT-ING.

Another victory has been scored by the A. M. Laevison bottling works regarding their mild drinks. Mr. F.
Melton, the well known merchant of Mayfield, Ky., who has been handling "Iron-Tone" and "Pale Ale," manufactured by A. M. Laevison and Co., was tried before Judge Webb, of Mayfield, day before yesterday on the charge of dispensing intoxicating liquors in violation of the local option law. After hearing the evidence and testing the "Pale Ale" and "Iron-Tone," Judge Webb immediately dismissed the case, and informed Mr.
Melton the drinks were non-intoxicating and he could sell them at his pleasure. This is further conclusive proof added to the heretofore favorably rendered decisions holding Laevison's drinks non-intoxicating.

Traces of Roman Villa.

The foundations of a Roman villa have been laid bare in Glenloch park, London, by the park keeper. The space has an area of about sixteen feet, and the only loose materials found so far are some tiles. The discovery is regarded with great interest by local antiquarians.

HER OWN FUNERAL

Colored Woman of Maxon's Mills Has it Preached.

She Occupied a Front Seat and Got the Full Benefit of the Afflicting Eulogy.

A VERY UNUSUAL CASE

A great many people alive today have read their own obituaries, but doubtless few persons have heard their funerals preached. Caroline Bacon, however, is one of the latter. She is an old colored woman residing in the Maxon's Mills section of the county, and is well known in that vicinity. She is 76 years old, and growing feeble. She believes she is going to die soon, although she is at present in fairly good health.

The other day she announced that instead of having her funeral preached after her death she wanted it preached beforehand, so she could get the benefit of it. Funerals do those most concerned, the dead, least good of all under the modern system, she declared, and proposed to be unconventional so far as she herself was concerned and enjoy her funeral while she is yet alive.

Her wishes were communicated to the pastor, an accommodating man, it appears, who realizing the importance of acceding to the wishes of those who are about to leave this vale of tears, regarded it as his Christian duty to preach her funeral, so last Sunday it was preached.

There was a large crowd of friends and relatives for miles around present, and Caroline had a front seat. The pastor exerted himself, and the frills and furbelows of rhetoric that were made to adorn the eulogy were such as possibly only a colored pastor of that section could invent.

The old woman must have felt highly pleased at the success of her venture, and doubtless left fully convinced that she is going straight to heaven when she does kick the bucket.

The funeral sermon was a success from another standpoint, as many wailed and shed copious tears at the affecting oration of the pastor. It was a remarkable scene, and Caroline has inaugurated an innovation that may become very popular, as many poor mortals never get a good word or a tear during their lifetime and would enjoy them far more than those that usually come after their death. At any rate, Caroline heard her own funeral preached and is ready to die happy.

Miss Tommie Wattle is out again after a several days' illness.

SMALL WRECK.

The noon fast passenger train to Louisville was nearly an hour and a half late on account of a wreck at Covington, Tenn. A car was derailed at that place and had to be put on the rails again before the train could proceed and go onto a siding for the passenger to pass.

TO SETTLE SOON

Councilman Fowler, of the Committee, Wants Bond Interest Paid.

He Also Says Alderman Noble is the Brainiest Man in General Council.

Councilman Joe Fowler stated this morning relative to the payment of the interest on the railroad bonds that the object in having the matter speedily attended to was to keep the city from paying the compound interest.

"The matter was referred to the joint finance committee of which I am a member," he said, "and we will have to borrow the money out of the bank in order to meet the interest coupons as they fall due. This will have to be done immediately and we will hold a meeting as soon as possible in order to secure the money and pay the first installment on the debt. The money has to be paid in New York and consequently has to be sent there and more time is consumed and necessitates speedy action on our part."

Councilman Fowler stated in regard to President Noble's resignation from the board of aldermen that he considered it a great loss to the city to lose his services as president of the board of aldermen and further stated that he considered him the "brainiest man in both boards" and wished to have the public know his sentiments regarding the resignation.

REV. CHILES GOES VISITING.

COUNTY FRANCHISE

The East Tennessee Telephone Company to Secure One.

It Will Be Good for Ten Years—County Telephones Free.

Fiscal court meets October 7 and a franchise will be granted the East Tennessee Telephone Company to erect poles and establish lines throughout the county. The franchise is good for ten years, and will make little change in the county service, if any at all.

The company will furnish four telephones free, one to the county judge, one to the county clerk, one to the county attorney and one to the county road supervisor.

County officials will also be allowed the free use of all telephones in the county for the transaction of official business.

The East Tennessee already has a right to do business in the county and the new franchise will be largely a formality.

TENNESSEE RIVER TRADE

The Avalon to Enter it With the First Rise.

She Has Been Running in the Evansville and Louisville Trade.

The steamer Avalon will again enter the Tennessee river trade and will begin running in that trade at the first substantial rise.

A meeting of the stockholders of the company owning the boat was recently held at Chattanooga and it was decided to enter her in that trade and Captain L. Cramer, the captain, has already secured his pilot and is already for entering into the trade with the first rise. The boat has been running in the Evansville and Louisville mail service but was laid up on account of low water and since that time there was much speculation as to what the owners of the boat would do. She was formerly in the Chattanooga and Tennessee river trade but dropped it when chartered for the Cincinnati and Memphis trade in the place of the ill-fated steamer City of Pittsburg.

ALL GETTING OUT

Two Members of the Board of Aldermen Have Quit Their Jobs.

City Physician J. E. Coyle Also Hands in his Resignation to the Board.

ALDERMEN MET LAST NIGHT

The board of aldermen met in regular session last night with all members present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted.

The matter of securing dirt for the tanyard fill was referred.

The resignation of City Physician Coyle was presented by Mayor Yeiser and President Noble thought that the resignation should be tendered the council, as the office was elective from that board. City Attorney Worten stated that the resignation should be directed to the general council and the board then accepted the resignation.

The motion to place the matter of borrowing $18,000 to pay off the bond suit in the hands of a committee was adopted.

The finance committee presented the finance report of the regular bills against the city, which was received.

The back tax collector's report was presented and received. The report showed a collection of $106.08.

The report of the joint finance committee for a period beginning with December 1, 1901, to May 31, 1902, was presented, received, filed and concurred in.

The clerk was ordered to make out another complete six months' report similar to the above in order to have a complete financial report for the fiscal year, the report being made out for the six months prior to December 1, 1901.

There seemed to be some doubt as to the validity of the ballot taken in the bond issue the city is about to make, as all three improvement bond issues are to be voted on as one. City Attorney Worten stated that as there was some doubt he would advise the council to order the ballot on one bond issue only at the time. The report was received and filed.

The ordinance providing for the class of matter to be printed by the official newspaper of the city and also fixing the pay for the same was presented. This all came out of an attempt of the "official organ" to bleed the city in the printing contracts, the paper claiming a big rate for the printing. The ordinance provides for a salary of $200 per year for abstract council meeting and 3 cents per line for other matter. The ordinance was given second passage.

The street improvement bond ordinance was given first reading. The market house bond ordinance was referred first reading. The city hospital bond ordinance was referred first reading. The city scale ordinance was given first passage. The Oak Grove fund ordinance was given first reading. The market house regulation ordinance was referred.

Several deeds to lots in Oak Grove were ratified.

The Paducah Ornament Pole Co. wanted to be exempted for a period of five years from taxation. The board gave the resolution first passage.

The city hospital improvements were reported completed at a cost of about $35.65.

The saloon license of Chas. Denker was transferred to A. Denker.

Mr. E. E. Harris wanted his saloon license transferred to W. A. Womble. A petition against the transfer was read and the board referred the matter.

The resignation of Alderman Tom

Barry was here read. He stated in the resignation that he endorsed the injunction suit and as to the mayor's intention and object in his part of the suit, he "felt sure it was done in a purely honorable motive." The resignation was accepted.

Here President Noble took the floor and in a brief speech presented his resignation as president of the board, effective immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. The resignation was not accepted. Here Mr. Noble made a statement defending the "attack made on the honorable character of Mayor Yeiser." He here tendered his resignation as a member of the board. Attorney Worten arose and stated that he regretted to see both the resignations of Aldermen Barry and Noble and further apologized for "anything I might have said that might have hurt anyone's feelings in my opinion in regard to the injunction suit." The board here started to act on the resignation, but Mr. Noble had handed it in to the mayor, who alone has the power to act.

By motion the board then adjourned.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FILED.

Louis M. Riecke, Sr., L. W. Ornce and J. A. Baner have filed articles of incorporation for the Imperial Mining company, with $50,000 capital stock. The company will develop mining lands in Hardin county, Ill.

KIDNAPPED

THE ADVENTURES OF DAVID BALFOUR IN THE YEAR 1751

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

These were the two things uppermost in my mind, and I could open my mouth upon neither without black ungenerosity. So I did the next worst and said nothing; nor so much as looked once at my companion save with the tail of my eye.

At last upon the other side of Loch Errocht, going over a smooth, rushy place where the walking was easy, he could bear it no longer and came close to me.

"David," says he, "this is no way for two friends to take a small accident. I have to say that I'm sorry, and so that's said. And now if you have anything you'd better say it."

"Oh," says I, "I have nothing."

He seemed disconcerted, at which I was inwardly pleased.

"No," said he, with rather a trembling voice, "but when I say I was to blame!"

"Why, of course you were to blame," said I coolly, "and ye will bear me out that I have never reproached you."

"Never," says he; "but ye ken very well that ye've done worse. Are we to part? Ye said so once before. Are ye to say it again? There's hills and heather enough between here and the two seas, David, and I will own I'm no very keen to stay where I'm nae wanted."

This pierced me like a sword and seemed to lay bare my private disloyalty.

"Alan Breck!" I cried, and then: "Do you think I am one to turn my back on you in your chief's need? You durstn't say it to my face. My whole conduct's there to give the lie to it. It's true I fell asleep upon the mair, but that was from weariness, and you do wrong to cast it up to me."

"Which is what I never did," said Alan.

"But aside from that," I continued, "what have I done that you should even me to dogs by such a supposition? I never yet failed a friend, and it's not likely I'll begin with you. There are things between us that I can never forget, even if you can."

"I will only say this to ye, David," said Alan, very quietly, "that I have long been owing ye my life, and now I owe ye money. Ye should try to make that burden light for me."

"You ask me to speak," said I. "Well, then, I will. You own yourself that you have done me a disservice; I have had to swallow an affront; I have never reproached you; I never named the thing till you did. And now you blame me," cried I, "because I cannot laugh and sing as if I was glad to be affronted. The next thing will be that I'm to go down upon my knees and thank you for it. Ye should think more of others. Alan Breck. If ye thought more of others, ye would perhaps speak less about yourself; and when a friend that likes you very well has passed over an offense without a word, you would be fitter to let it lie, instead of making it a stick to break his back with. By your own way of it, it was you that was to blame; then it shouldnae be you to seek the quarrel."

"Awed," said Alan, "say nae mair."

And we fell back into our former silence, and came to our journey's end, and snuggled and lay down to sleep without another word.

The guide put us across Loch Rannoch in the dusk of the next day, and gave us his opinion as to our best route. This was to get us up one into the tops of the mountains; to go round by a circuit, turning to the heads of Glen Lyon, Glen Lochay and Glen Dochart, and come down upon the lowlands by Kippen and the upper waters of the Forth. Alan was little pleased with a route which led us through the country of his blood foes, the Glenorchies and Campbells. But the guide, who was indeed the chief man of Chum's scouts, had good reasons to give him on all hands, naming the force of troops in every district, and alleging finally as well as I could understand that we should nowhere be so little troubled as in a country of the Campbells.

Alan gave way at last, but with only half a heart. "It's one of the dowieest countries in Scotland," said he, "There's naething there that I ken but heath and crows and Campbells. But I see that ye're a man of some penetration, and be it as ye please!"

We set forth accordingly by this itinerary, and for the best part of three nights traveled on eerie mountains and among the well heads of wild rivers, often buried in mist, almost continually blown and rained upon, and not once cheered by any glimpse of sunshine. By day we lay and slept in the drearily heather; by night, incessantly clambered upon breakneck hills and among rude crags. We often wandered; we were often so involved in fog that we must lie quiet till it lightened. A fire was never to be thought of. Our only food was drumstick and a portion of cold meat that we had carried from the Crag; and as for drink, heaven knows we had no want of water.

During all these horrid wanderings we had no familiarity, scarcely even that of speech. The truth is that I was sickening for my grave, which is my best excuse. But besides that I was of an unforgiving disposition from my birth, slow to take offense, slower to forget it, and now incensed both against my companion and myself. For the best part of two days he was unweariedly kind, silent, indeed, but always ready to help, and always hoping (as I could very well see) that my displeasure would blow by. For the same length of time I staid in myself, nursing my anger, roughly refusing his services, and passing him over with my eyes as if he had been a bush or a stone.

The second night, or rather the peep of the third day, found us upon a very open hill, so that we could not follow our usual plan and lie down immediately to eat and sleep. Before we had reached a place of shelter the gray had come pretty clear, for though it still rained, the clouds ran higher, and Alan, looking up my face, showed some marks of concern.

"Ye had better let me take your pack," said he for perhaps the ninth time since we parted from the scout beside Loch Rannoch.

"Do very well, I thank you," said I as cold as ice.

Alan flushed darkly. "I'll not offer it again," he said; "I'm not a patient man, David."

"I never said you were," said I, which was exactly the rule, silly speech of a boy of ten.

Alan made no answer at the time, but his conduct answered for him. Henceforth, it is to be thought, he quite forgot himself for the affair at Chum's, cocked his hat again, walked jauntily, whistled and looked at me upon one side with a provoking smile.

The third night we were to pass through the western end of the country of Balgaddie. It came clear and cold, with a touch in the air like frost and a northerly wind that blew the clouds away and made the stars bright. The streams were full of course, and still made a great noise among the hills, but I observed that Alan thought no more upon the Kelpie and was in high good spirits. As for the change of weather came too late; I had lain in the mire so long that (as the Bible has it) my very clothes "abhorred me." I was dead weary, dead sick and full of pains and shiverings; the chill of the wind went through me, and the sound of it confused my ears. In this poor state I had to bear from my companion something in the nature of a persecution. He spoke a good deal and never without a taunt. "Whig" was the best name he had to give me. "Here," he would say, "here's a dub for ye to jump, my Whiggie. I ken ye're a fine jumper!" And so on, all the time with a gibing voice and face.

All the while I was growing worse and worse. Once I had fallen, my legs simply doubling under me, and this had struck Alan for the moment, but I was as foot so briskly and got off again with such a natural manner that he soon forgot the incident. Flashes of heat went over me and then spasms of shuddering. The stitch in my side was hardly bearable. At last I began to feel that I could trail myself no farther, and with that there came on me all at once the wish to have it out with Alan, let my anger blaze and be done with my life in a more sudden manner. He had just called me "Whig."

"Mr. Stewart," said I in a voice that quivered like a fiddle string, "you are older than I am, and should know your manners. Do you think it either very wise or very witty to cast my politics in my teeth? I thought where folk differed it was the part of gentlemen to differ civilly, and if I did not I may tell you I could find a better taunt than some of yours."

Alan had stopped opposite to me, his hat cocked, his hands in his breeches pockets, his head a little to one side. He listened, smilingly evilly, as I could see by the sturlight, and when I had done he began to whistle a Jacobite air. It was the air made in mockery of General Cope's defeat at Prestonpans:

Hey, Johnny Cope, are ye waukin yet?
And are your drums a beatin yet?
And it came in my mind that Alan, on the day of that battle, had been engaged on the royal side.

"Why do ye take that air, Mr. Stewart?" said I. "Is that to remind me you have been beaten on both sides?"

The air stopped on Alan's lips. "Da-

A JOINT SESSION.

FIRST OF THE KIND SINCE THE CIVIL WAR.

Lexington, Sept. 19.—On Tuesday, October 1, for the first time since the Civil War, the Northern and Southern synods of Kentucky will meet in joint session in this city to celebrate the centennial of the church in Kentucky. The Northern and Southern synods are to meet separately, but a joint session will later be held. At this meeting in all probability the question of a synodical college at Sayre Institute will be taken up.

The program for the meeting has not yet been arranged, but the speakers so far selected are as follows:

"Historical Sketch of the Synod," Mr. E. W. C. Humphrey.
